

Little Miss Beverly Good, (at left) 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Good, led Carrollton's annual home-coming parade onto the town square Friday. She is mascot of the high school pep squad. The parade

swung around the town square before a crowd that packed the business district. (News Staff Photos by John Jeter).

HOME-COMING

Carrollton High Holds 19th Reunion

"It's the best home-coming Carrollton ever had."

Mrs. Peggy Perry Oliver, Class of '43, put this appraisal Friday on the Dallas County town's nineteenth annual reunion of Carrollton High School ex-students. By way of explanation, she added:

"The parade was the prettiest and the crowd was the largest. It overflowed the town square."

High light of a hilarious afternoon assembly was a "Floradora Follies" number staged by six graduates. The cast included Mrs. Eva Lee Perry, Class of '23; Mrs. Marion Good, '18; Mrs. Alice Van Cleave, '24; Mrs. Nina Howard, '35; Mrs. Ruby Derr, '39, and Mrs. Frances Price, '36. Tommy Vandagriff, '43, served as master of ceremonies after Supt. R. L. Turner welcomed the visitors. Bob Reed, '45, ex-students association president, spoke.

First prize for the best parade float went to a giant battleship called "U.S.S. Home-coming." It was the senior class' entry and one of fifteen that formed a line back of Director S. J. Gratke's high school band. The parade moved from the high school across town and around the public square.

A blue-eyed blonde, Miss Sue Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Williams, was crowned home-coming queen between halves of the annual Hillcrest-Carrollton football game. She also reigned at the annual home-coming dance following the game.

Corn and hay are familiar to 3-year-old Stephen Blanton, who rode a float entered in Carrollton's home-coming parade by his granddad, Grain Dealer L. F. Blanton. Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blanton.